Your University of Iowa Students

Data compiled by the Center for Research on Undergraduate Education
Research on Iowa Student Experiences (RISE) study

Student Demographics (Spring Semester 2007)
- Total Undergraduate Students = 19,617 (10,393 women / 9,224 men)
- 4,878 freshmen (17%)
- 3,974 sophomores (13.9 %)
- 4,884 juniors (17%)
- 5,881 seniors (20.5%)
- Total Graduate Students = 5,234 (2,941 women / 2,293 men)

Faculty Demographics (2006-2007) Retrieved from the Office of the Provost
- Total Professors = 497 (mean age = 57.1 years)
- Total Associate Professors =362 (mean age = 47.9 years)
- Total Assistant Professors =243 (mean age = 38.0 years)

University Demographics (2006-2007)
- 11 colleges
- 84 departments

Highlights
- Students in general report teachers are “outstanding” and “genuinely interested” in students and teaching
- They report spending “a lot of time studying” yet 19.5% of 1st year students & 34% of seniors said they had read 0-4 “assigned books and readings this academic year”
- 36% of 1st-years and 43% of seniors reported binge-drinking at least 3, and as many as 6 or more, times in a typical two-week period
- 65% of first-year students and 68% of seniors reported completing 0-4 essay exams, and 50% of seniors reported completing 0-4 term papers or written reports
- Students are also involved in:
  - sororities/fraternities
  - leadership positions in student clubs, organizations, and residence halls
  - honor’s programs
  - intramural sports
  - research projects with faculty members outside of program requirements
  - leadership training programs
  - tutoring other students
  - racial/cultural awareness workshops
  - study abroad programs
  - living-learning communities
  - serving as resident assistants, peer educators, and orientation leaders